Hey, hey – here's another Klassic already! Maybe I'm finally getting back in the groove. I was told that books of pinup art were selling quite well in the furry fandom community – so I thought I'd put one out myself. I certainly have enough material! About half of this issue are commissions, the other half is my ideas... Try and tell which is which! But do not forget that all these lovely ladies are MINE, ALL MINE! If you violate my copyright, I will kill you in such an embarrassing fashion that your name will pop up in comedy monologs all over the country. Not a proud legacy. So drop all larcenous thoughts, and instead
